I miss her a lot. Sometimes the hurt of her not being here reaches up and yanks me down. I have a hard time with the realization she is not here. I have so many memories that I could share. The most important ones are the last conversations we had and texts. When ever I told her I loved her, she always would say "I Know". And she loved when I would call and say" Hello my love". I could feel her big smile thru the phone. She was the big sister of all big sisters. Didn't need a big brother, cause I had Denise. :). People knew I was her sister before I knew who they were.She called me her hero. She was my hero growing up. And I would brag on her all the time, when she wasn't pissing me off as sisters do.I could go to her and ask her about people and get her opinion. And she would be dead on. Cause she loved me too. I want to reach for the phone and ask her about situations that I know she would have the answer too and I can't. I miss my sister so much.Her baby sister Dawn

I only just found out this horrible news about Denise yesterday. I'm saddened for her family immensely--she was the rock for everyone to gain strength from in her family. Denise was my neighbor in Montesano and I have so missed her when she moved back to Tacoma, but understood the reasons. I don't have any contact information for Ayanna...so if someone reads this, please pass it on to Ayanna that she is always a part of my family and if she ever needs anything--to call or come by--my door is always open to her. My girls grew up w/ Ayanna and called Denise "Grandma" too. They would love to see Ay again. After reading the comments on here and seeing how much Grandma/Denise is missed--remember her words, her hugs, and know that she is always with each of you--watching and mostly likely laughing at whatever you are about to do--and whispering her advice in your ear. She is with you. Always. And she is even stronger in her presence now with Anthony beside her. Love to you all in this time...and if you ever just want to talk please call me--and please pass this on to Ayanna...360-268-4062 (jen)

Hey Auntie ,I know this isnt really you but sometimes it feels good to write to you even if you can't reply immediately back... I miss You auntie and Mom, its really different without you being here, i dont like it, so much is going wrong and yet right at the sametime... i cant really explain it, but i miss my family, i know our family has never been perfect, but i hoped with after everything that some would realize , at the end of the day and end of time your nothing with god and your family, but we dont act like a family nobodys living up to what you wanted and yet they say they miss you, but no seem to realize your presence and Anthonys Presence are strongest when we're all together and loving each other. it just hurts , well imma get back to work i have to get these grades up so i can make you guys proud.oh and Ayanna "im so proud of her and the young women shes becoming i know youre proud of her too. she really misses you. Mom misses you she cries alot, but i know youre there with her,she thinks and talks about you just aboout every day. Grams Misses you too, and simon really misses you he wants what i want : OUR FAMILY TO BE A FAMILY. I Pray that one day our wish comes true.I Love You Auntie Denise. Love Dusty Diva

We are a family, everyone just does not want to be a part of it. But those of us that do, we are good. Even in our struggles and loses, we are still good.

Thank you from the Gordon family

Maria Quiles lit a candle in honor of Phyllis.

When I think of Denise, I think of her smile, her laughter and how fiercely she loved her family. Lord, I come to you to ask that you provide Denises's family ad friends with strength and comfort in this time of deep need. Their hurt and grief run so deep. I can only imagine how hard this time must be for them. I pray that you help them maintain their faith in you during this difficult time.I know you can be our greatest shoulder, but I also ask that you remain their biggest provider. It is a time when daily life can be so burdensome. Please provide patience from them as they work through their grief. Surround them with understanding so that they can work through all the emotions this loss brought up. In this time when so many things get lost and allow those around them to help keep regular life on track. Lord, allow her family and friends to have the comfort they need during this time.I pray these things in your holy name. Amen.I am truly blessed to have met Denise, my prayers are with you guys now and forever, Love, Maria
