Roxanne Frey

APR 7, 1962 - FEB 6, 2018

Roxanne Lee Frey (Coolidge) passed away peacefully on Tuesday, February 6th, at the age of 55 in Lakewood, Washington. Born in April of 1962 in Moses Lake, Washington, Roxanne grew up all over the world as the fourth of five children in a military family. The Coolidge family ultimately settled in Spanaway, Washington, where the shy and soft-spoken Roxanne graduated from Bethel High School in 1980. Roxanne gave birth to her first child, Robert Michael, in 1984, and completed her family by bringing her daughter, Tiffany Nicole, into the world in 1988.

In passing, Roxanne joins her recently deceased father, Wallace Coolidge, and several pets that she cared for during her lifetime. In addition to her two children, Robert and Tiffany, Roxanne also leaves behind the hard-working matriarch of the Coolidge family, mother Shirley Woolman Coolidge, and four siblings that she grew up alongside, sisters Diana, Doris, and Denise, and her brother, Ronald. Outside of her immediate family, Roxanne also impacted many nieces, nephews, a half-sister, and her four living cats will certainly miss her attention.

Jerri Lloyd lit a candle in honor of Roxanne.

My heart goes out to the loved ones you've left behind but the Lord has new plans for you. I know that you will always be in their hearts as you look over them on your new journey.

Roxanne,I'm broken hearted that you had to leave us so soon, but I am happy knowing you're with dad again. I'm going to miss our phone calls but I will miss your laugh more. You had such a bubbly joyful laugh that could light up a whole room. I can only hope that dad is sharing his jokes and you're lighting up heaven with that laugh. We all know how special your fur babies were to you and I hope you're reunited with all of them again. Please give daddy a hug for me. I will miss you sis. I love you.
