To say that Rich proudly served his country in the United States Army as a helicopter mechanic is such an understatement, when I flew with Rich I flew with the best that there was. If he was on board my worries about the days missions went way down. Rich's fellow air crew members liked and trusted him. He had a way of instilling confidence in those of us he flew with and was liked by all the pilots and crew members in the Little Bears. God speed Rich. Little Bear 18. Night Hawk 18. Galen Nelson
