Carol, so sorry to hear of your loss. I want to send you the lyrics of a song that helped me so much when I lost my Papa.....If I'm gone when you wake up please don't cry And if I'm gone when you wake up it's not goodbye Don't look back at this time as a time of heartbreak and distress Remember me, remember me, cause I'll be with you in your dreams I'll be with you. If I'm gone when you wake up please don't cry. And if I'm gone when you wake up don't ask why Don't look back at this time as a time of heartbreak and distress Remember me, remember me, cause I'll be with you in your dream, Don't cry I'll be with you don't cry I'll be by your side.....And though my flesh is gone, I'll still be with you at all times And though my body is gone, I'll be there to comfort you at all times.....I don't want you to cry and weep, I want you to go on livin' your life I'm not sleepin' an endless sleep, Cause in your heart you all have good times.....Carol, she will meet you in your dreams until you join her in heaven and what a wonderful person for you to have, waiting for you there.....##imported-begin##Melissa (Mel)##imported-end##

Dear Marilyn, This is the time of our lives that we all know will come one day, but are never prepared for. We have known each other for nearly 30 years, and you have always been the kindest friend with such a deep caring heart and compassion for others, and I see a lot of that goodness in you that was talked about at your mother's touching memorial service on Saturday. I ask God to give you extra strength to carry you through the days ahead. You will persevere strongly with Jesus walking at your side and being all-knowing about what actually took place over the years. You always had your mother's best interests and needs foremost in your mind, and we witnessed that. Know that your parents are happily reunited and will await your grand reunion someday. I am sorry for your loss I know how it feels for I have just lost my mother a few weeks ago. What is life? It is the flash of a firefly in the night. It is the breath of a buffalo in the wintertime. It is the little shadow which runs across the grass and loses itself in the sunset. Tears are sometimes an inappropriate response to death. When a life has been lived completely honestly, completely successfully, or just completely, the correct response to death's perfect punctuation mark is a smile. GRAVES ARE THE FOOT PRINTS OF ANGLES Death is but crossing the world, as friends do the seas; they live in one another still. Death--the last sleep? No, it is the final awakening. I can only hope you take comfort in knowing you will one day be together again in a better time and in a better place. Love Doggie##imported-begin##Doggie##imported-end##

Carolyn, as you know too well, we understand your loss, as we have suffered losses, too. Be comforted in the fact that you were the only one there for your mother when she needed you most. Your sacrifices of love, devoting your life to making hers better in the twilight of her days, shall not go unrewarded by the Angels in Heaven, while those who had forsaken her are left to suffer the guilt of their sins. God blessed Evelyn with you and Scarlet, the light of her eyes. When no one else was there for her, you were. God blessed you with every moment of her life, and the memories only you will cherish of her days on Earth. In your heart she lives on as only she can in your heart. No matter what, you and only you know what it meant to Evelyn to selflessly devote yourself to fulfilling her every need, when others had forsaken her. You were always by her side and it was never a "bother" or "inconvenience" to you to be with her night and day. God surely blesses you for giving of yourself when others were more concerned about "what's in it for me?" They will live an eternity with their guilt, while you will soar with a pure heart. God Bless You!##imported-begin##Mary and David Lemke##imported-end##
