My precious Angel, Keanu. The holidays are upon us and Lord knows how much I miss you. Seems the holidays are always too hard for me to face without you here. I miss you so much baby. Just thinking of you breaks my heart in two. I miss your wonderful smile, your laughter, your kind and gentle manner, but most of all, I miss just holding you. Rest in peace baby; you remain forever in my heart. All my Love, Grandma###imported-begin##Grandma###imported-end##

It has already been almost 4 years since you left. My heart still hurts because I miss you so much. My weekly visits to your grave sometimes eases the pain. I love and miss you so much Baby. I know you are looking down from Heaven and watching over all of us. My mind tells me you are OK, but my heart tells me you belong with me. Take care baby, I will see you later. To my Precious Angel, Keanu. Words cannot express how much I miss you. You were my life, my joy, my world and when you were called home, my whole world came crashing down. I love and miss you baby and although I know you don't want me to cry this pain in my heart lets the tears flow freely. I pray that God will give me the strength go get me through this heartache of losing you. Rest in peace baby for I know that when my time comes you will be right there to open the gates of heaven for me. Baby, keep the lights in heaven on and save a seat for me. I love you very much. To the Mendiola Family: We can't but imagine the grief you must be feeling at this time. Its natural to feel the way you do. The Bible says death is an emeny, when it strikes the pain is very great. The Bible does offer comfort and hope, Jesus Christ says at John 5:28,29, There is going to be a resurrection of our love ones back to life in a beautiful paradise earth, where little Keanu can run and jump and play forever. May Jehovah be with you and your family and give you strenght and sustain you during this time.###imported-begin###Monica Burgess###imported-end##
