I am still processing this tragic information and am so sad! I grew up with John (my Johnny) my entire life. He was my only friend in the neighborhood since I was 4 years old. Throughout grade school we had every class together and then grew apart through high school. I have many awesome memories that I still share with my friends and kids to this day. Ironically, I ran into an old friend just last week and asked if he knew how John was doing. I have missed him all these years and will now continue to miss him. I love you Johnny! Well, I always remember John as a good friend, great fishing buddy. I have thought of "where is he now" so many times and hoped that we would get to talk again. I wish I had reached out sooner. We had so many laughs when we lived together as young adults.. I hope that he has found peace.##imported-begin##Steve##imported-end##

I am sorry to hear the loss of John. He and I met many years ago in Puyallup and hung out for just a short period of time. I have thought of him a lot through out the years. My prayers are for you and the family. May he rest in peace. ~Christie##imported-begin##Christie Johnston##imported-end##
