Blanche Duffy

JUN 11, 1927 - APR 5, 2012

Blanche Duffy

Blanche's journey took her down many different roads, from business owner, military wife, political volunteer, and raising 4 children and two grandchildren. She loved the thrill of finding bargains at garage sales and the Goodwill; she always made time to ask how everyone was doing and how she could help. Her big heart and candor left an impression with everyone she met.

Josh I am so sorry for your lose. I would like to thank you for sharing your Grandmother with us. We all grew to love her very much. And I know from spending hours talking to her that you were her "Pride and Joy". I thank her for opening her home and heart to Justin, Ellie and myself. I will miss her very much. I loved her spirit and spunk. And she wasn't afraid to share her opinion. She spoke often of her great memories that you and her and your grandfather took together and how she loved you. I know that she is with your Grandfather and no longer in pain or discomfort. And for that I am happy for her. Just remember the good times and be thankful we had her in our lives. Love you always, Linda & Ellie Vold and Justin Miller##imported-begin##Linda Vold and Family##imported-end##
