My sincere condolences go out to the family of Mary Cameron: Although, I didn't know Mrs. Cameron personally, it is my sincere hope that her family be comforted, knowing that by means of God's Kingdom, all human suffering, sickness, and even death will one day be brought to an end! (Please read 1 Corinthians 15:25; Isaiah 25:8; Revelation 21:4) For those like Mary who are asleep in death; the King of God's Kingdom will awaken them to life on earth, by means of a resurrection. (Please read Acts 24:15; John 5:25-30; Matthew 5:5; Psalm 37:10, 11, 29; John 3:16; Isaiah 9:7) With heartfelt sympathy for your loss, Ms. Weston

Hi my name is Rebecca and you dont know me but I happen to see that you recently lost a loved one and I wanted to offer my sincere condolence. Having lost loved ones myself I know how hard it is and how much it hurts. However I just wanted to share with you some of the things that comforted me during these hard times. Maybe you a religious person yourself. I like to turn to the bible for comfort. The first scripture I wanted to share with you is found at John 5:28,29 which reads,"Do not marvel at this, the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come on out."So a promise from our creator is that we will soon be reunited with our loved ones again. He never wanted us to have to go through this but we inherited it through our first parents Adam and Eve, unfortunately. But he hasn't left us without hope. Revelation 21:4 states: "and he will wipe out every tear from their eyes and death will be no more neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore the former things have passed away." Isn't that an awesome scripture full of hope. I have read that so many times more than I can count. God promises that soon death will be a thing of the past. That we will no longer have to worry about losing our loved ones or dying ourselves. Pain whether it's physical or emotional pain will no longer exist. Another thing I truly look forward too. I know this loss is fresh in your mind and hearts but I just wanted to say that I care and that I hope you have those around you to support you. If you would like to read any bible literature or know any more comforting scriptures I would love to provide those for you. I appreciate you taking the time to read this. With my deepest sympathy
