Offering my sincere condolences. I did not know your parents but it seems they left an excellent example as a married couple and were truly loved. May you continue to rely on our Heavenly Father at this time, earnestly searching the scriptures where you will find comfort and hope. Rev. 21:3&4##imported-begin##TJ##imported-end##

It goes without question that I loved your Mother. I loved everything about her. She was a loving, caring and generous women. She could see her purpose in life. She lived her life with purpose. She was easy for me to love because just like the bible, she said what she meant and she meant what she said. She will forever be in my thoughts and my heart. I am going to miss her more than anyone will ever know. May God bless us all as we go though this trying time with you. We only have to open our eyes to see all the beauty she has left us. My condolence and love Sis King##imported-begin##Linda King##imported-end##
